

The story so far...

How does the girl feel?

What have the events of the day been?

What have the other members of her family been doing?

Use these questions to help you plan and write a diary entry for the girl at the end of this day.

Remember, write in the 1st person as if you are the girl sat on her bed. How do you feel? What has happened today?

Try to include the present perfect tense (has/have before the past tense verb, eg Today has been so boring, no one would play with me.

Do not read
on until you have written your diary!!!

There is hope though! What is happening here? Where is her magic crayon taking her? Can you predict what might happen in the story next?
