

Friday Literacy Activity

Having read the Nowhere Emporium, can you write a description of an intriguing shop? Make sure you include the senses when you describe both the outside and the inside. What would draw somebody to want to enter it? How does it make you feel when you set foot inside the door?

Try to use descriptive vocabulary, similes, metaphors, and prepositional phrases to help bring your image to life. You could write about the shop you drew yesterday or you could write about a shop from a story or somewhere you have visited. You could use the picture above of Honeydukes from Harry Potter to help you come up with ideas.
